New Photographic Studio—High Grade Photographs.

Our rooms are entirely new throughout and replete in all modern improve-ments, therefore we can guarantee work of superior quality and excellence at a price within the reach of all who desire artistic work.

The era of cheap photographs is past. Such work has never merited applause or approval by either renowned photographers or the public, therefore any cut in prices heretofore has been the work of cheap, itinerant photographers who have no standing in legitimate photography and follow their mechanical inclinations only.

We extend to all a cordial invitation

A HILLSBORO COUPLE.

Their Troubles to be Aired in the Ross County Courts.

Savanah E. Young has filed a petition in divorce against Samuel Young. They were married at Columbus on December 25th, 1882. Mrs. Young charges her husband with extreme cruelty, in this, that for several years prior to September, 1889, he was continuously accusing her of lewd and lascivious conduct, and of havwere made by him for the purpose of destroying her reputation in that comcharges worked upon her mind so that it affected her health and she was comand make her home in Chillicothe in order to enjoy peace of mind, which she did on September 1st, 1889. Mrs. Young further says that her husband has been guilty of gross neglect of duty in this, that the charges of lew conduct and three years. She prays for a divorce t she may In the case of W. L. Ross County Jurors.

The Chillicothe Register gives the folnish security for costs in his suit against lowing estimate of the intelligence of the present petit jury serving in the Ross Common Pleas Court:

There have been juries and juries in our local courts, but the present petit jury in Common Pleas, is about the worst specimen, which can be remembered even in those 'times to which the memory of man runneth not.' That is, it is as bad as an entirety. Of course there are a number of bright and intelligent men on it, but the majority of its mem-bers hardly know their own names and certainly have not sufficient intelligence to come in the house when it rains. As an instance in point, the other day one of our attorneys was attempting to impeach the testimony of a witness for the other side. He spent about ten hours cross examining this one man, and yet when he had finished he had the satisfaction of havinghes of the impact of the satisfaction. faction of having one of the jurymen ask if that witness had not been on his side. Again, after the case of Strawser against Strawser had been finished yesterday one of these intelligent jurors asked Attorney Seymore Cunningham which side of the case he had been connected with.

They have given evidence of their utter lack of intelligence ever since they have been impanelled, and no one need feel surprised however ridiculous a verdict may be found while they are in the box.

Obituary.

Mabel, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Resler, died in Cincinnati on February 9th, of pneumonia, aged 19 months. Funeral services on the 11th were conducted by Rev. McBride, and the remains were laid to rest in Spring Grove cemetery.

Whose Shoes ?

Commodore W. C. Fields, the Lynchburg statesman and philosopher, is at present taking the principal part in a little comedy entitled, "Cinderella or how I got hold of the wrong shoes." One night a week or so ago he was in Columbus and wished to come home on the early morning Midland train. Instead of going to the hotel and getting up to catch the train he sought the depot early in the evening and took a birth in the Pullman, which stays at the depot ing committed adultery with some of the all night, cautioning the porter to wake most respectable men of Hillsboro, where him at Wilmington in order that he they then lived, which charges she says | might have time to dress before having were wholly false and malicious, and to change cars at Blanchester. Feeling secure that the porter would carry out directions "Plug" peacefully turned over munity and driving her away; that the and was soon in dreamland living over the time when he held a Government position at Washington. Just as he was pelled to leave her home in Hillsboro in the act of drawing his salary for a month's work he was rudely awakened by the porter with the information that the train bad passed Midland City and was nearing Blanchester. He realized that he had not a moment to spare unless he wanted to land on the depot platthreats which he made against her that form at Blanchester all dishabille and she would be poisoned if she continued with one wild bound he landed in the to live at Hillsboro compelled her to aisle, heaping imprecations on the leave her home; also that he has failed porter's head. After a good deal of experimenting he finally got dressed and appeared his own neat W. C. with the exception of the shoes, which were at his own estimate, five sizes too large for his number 4 foot, and not of his favorite style. By keeping them carefully concealed under the car seat he made the journey to Lynchburg safely and soon procured another pair. Harley Whipped His Wife.

The regular weekly divorce suit was filed with Clerk Walker last Thursday, making thirty-three cases of mistaken marital adventures which are now waiting to be righted by the Court. The petitioner this week is Mrs. Cora A. Gilliland, wife of Harley H. Gilliland, to whom she was married last March. The couple have one child, Ray. Mrs. Gilliland says that her husband has been cruel to her almost continuously since their marriage. Last September he went so far as to whip her with a buggy whip and has been guilty of striking, kicking and cursing her every month since she was unfortunate enough to marry him. They separated the last of November. Mrs. Gililand, whose maiden name was Dove, asks for an absolute divorce though her attorneys, Steel & Hogsett
